Master of Education

The Master of Education offers relevant professional learning for educators in a broad range of fields including early childhood, primary, secondary, tertiary, vocational and adult education.

Course overview

The Master of Education is designed for professionals who want to develop or extend their expertise, and seek to move into leadership, specialist and/or coordinator positions. Study the latest developments and research within educational theory, policy and evidence-based approaches, allowing you to explore system-level issues and challenges within the sector.

With a flexible course structure, featuring nine specialisations and a large suite of electives, you can pursue your own interests and further your specialist teaching practice.

Outcomes

Develop in-depth knowledge and understanding of educational theory and practice in specialised areas of education from multidisciplinary and global perspectives. Graduates will be able to evaluate the social, cultural, political and historical contexts informing education policies and practices.

Specialisations

If you plan to do the course over two years, you have the option of choosing two specialist areas. Students who have 100 points advanced standing may be eligible to enrol in the Master of Education program for one year, you can complete one specialisation or choose various education electives or electives from other areas of the University. Our nine specialisations within the Master of Education include:

- Arts Education
- Assessment and Pedagogy
- Equity, Diversity and Social Change
- Leadership and Management
- Literacy Education
- Mathematics Education
- Policy in a Global Context
- Science Education
- Student Wellbeing.
